DOERMANN GIVES TWO-DAY SERIES ON INDIA TOPIC

Schiffel, Neumann, Braulick, and Mrs. Studier Speak.

The Rev. Carl Doermann, A. L. C. missionary to India, provided a two-day series of lectures on Indian topography.

Other speakers were the Rev. H. C. Schiffel, Arlington, Iowa; Dean G. J. Neumann, Mrs. Fred Studier, Waverly, Iowa; and E. J. Braulick.

The last pastor to address the Wartburg students last year, the Rev. H. C. Schiffel, Arlington, Iowa, spoke at the Wartburg Student Life, Monday, May 10. Preyer is the language of the soul when it expresses its communion with God. "I can now so busy that I must devote two or three hours to prayer, otherwise I cannot come to my tasks," the speaker quoted from Dr. Martin Luther.

The Rev. Carl Doermann, spoke Wednesday and Thursday, May 12 and 13.

Through the scaffolding is a day to be taken down, though it is groundwork is laid so that native pastors can take care of our people, we have yet necessity for white missionaries. Rev. Doermann said.

He pointed out that the work of the missionary is not only educational and medical, and the natives are eager to be helped. When he left the land, their last message to him was "Give greetings to all members of the Wartburg church. They are our brethren. Tell them to send our minister back here."

Of his own composition, Dean G. J. Neumann read a paper on the Wartburg church.

Of his own composition, Dean G. J. Neumann read a paper on the Wartburg church. The speaker said in part: "A silent man keeps an open mind. He knows it is never too late to learn and never loses faith in the light he has been given. Finally he nurtures a love of the beautiful and lives a great religious life."

Preyer E. J. Braulick conducted worship Wednesday, May 19, speaking on the subject, "Loving Life." "If a man will do to get one mile, go with him twenty miles," was the purpose of the president's message. Rather than follow the Old Testament policy of following the law to the letter, we should cut ourselves, but keep in mind constantly the above text, he urged.
